Title: Hypocrisy on Steroids

This is Dianne Daniels for Brookings Harbor Voices.

The Democrat Party has hypocrisy on full display.

They're going full bore protesting and objecting to the government's longstanding policy of separating illegal children and adults at the border when they voiced absolutely no objections to this same policy under President Obama. They even started their objection with a photo they claimed demonstrated President Trump's abjectly inhumane treatment of children detained illegally entering the US. The photo was quickly identified as one from 2014, thereby putting the abhorrent behavior squarely on President Obama. Giving the former President a pass, they quickly changed tactics, protesting at illegal children's holding centers. Why was this policy okay under Obama, but not Trump?

To date they've not expressed any interest or concern in ensuring these children are with actual family members. Many children illegally enter the US with unrelated adults, posing as parents to get quicker release. These children are often abandoned, victimized, or trafficked. Only DNA testing will protect the children, ensuring placement with family. Also, Democrats seem uncaring about the 10,000 illegal unaccompanied children currently held; they can't just be released on their own. Democrats seem more concerned about bashing/destroying the President and Immigration and Customs Enforcement than really protecting children.

Additionally, Democrats stated, "Elections have consequences", "We won, you lost: get over it", and President Obama gets his choice to fill Supreme Court vacancies. Now that it's President Trump, they hypocritically object to these concepts.

Republicans disagreed but respectfully yielded to President Obama's executive authority. Democrats act as hypocrites, regardless of the impact on children, good governance, and the nation.

Thank you for listening. And have nice day on the Wild Rivers Coast.
